Matthew 6:13

What is the meaning of this final petition, “And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from the evil one”? Why are we instructed to plead with God not to lead us into temptation? Would God really lead us into temptation? The answer Scripture gives seems pretty clear—No.

Temptation: the _____ to do something, especially something _____ or _____.

All 3 of the tests and temptations Jesus faced in the wilderness parallel things in the Lord’s Prayer—_____, _____, and _____.

Jesus’ _____ was not _____ but showed itself right in the place of _____.

While testing does do us _____, this petition _____ and _____ us to pray that God would spare us the test.

This is a prayer for _____ of _____ because we all live in a world where _____.

We began with the Father and His Name, Kingdom, and Will. In these second three petitions, we are brought right back around to the Father and His Name, Kingdom, and Will because our daily bread, forgiveness, deliverance, and protection are only because of the Father and His Name, Kingdom, and Will.
